

Nancy Igoe joined Carnegie Mellon University's Human-Computer Interaction Institute in November 2022, as a Research Administrator. Her prior career included administrative positions in financial services, academia, and health care. A lifelong native of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, she is looking forward to a long and successful career in Research Administration.

